New Sculptures Debut on El Paseo

A spinning "Sunflower" made of bicycle wheels; a colorful "Rocket" that started out as a sea kayak; and a "Hot Metal Flower Bouquet" created from a Jaguar engine, hub caps, and fire extinguishers - these are just a few of the fanciful and thought-provoking sculptures that have recently been installed on El Paseo as part the 2013/2014 El Paseo Invitational Exhibition.

The public is invited to a free ceremony celebrating the new exhibition on Monday, January 7 at 6 p.m. at The Gardens on El Paseo, 73545 El Paseo. Featured artists will be introduced on the lawn in front of Saks Fifth Avenue.

Palm Desert's Art in Public Places Commission selected the 18 artworks from among scores of artists who submitted their work for consideration. The 2013/2014 exhibition includes works from local Coachella Valley artists as well sculptures created by international artists from Canada and Israel. This year's exhibition even features a work by a Hollywood star - "Handstand" created by actor Daniel Stern, who starred in City Slickers, Diner, and Home Alone and was the narrator's voice on the Wonder Years.

The artworks will be displayed on pads in the El Paseo median for two years. Docent-led walking tours feature the Exhibition's sculptures and the City's public art collection. These tours are free and open to the public.

The popular El Paseo Invitational Exhibition and the City's extensive public art collection are reasons why the City of Palm Desert has been named one of five art destination cities in America by Southwest Art Magazine. For more information or to schedule a tour, please call 760-346-0611, ext. 664 or visit www.palmdesertart.org.

Share Your Thoughts on Palm Desert's Concerts in the Park

The City's concerts at Civic Center Park are an annual favorite with residents and visitors alike, delighting attendees of all ages with live music performed under the stars.

In recent years, the City has explored different times for the shows, holding them in the summer and fall and receiving enthusiastic responses from concertgoers, regardless of the season.

Now, residents have a chance to weigh in on the popular concerts and tell the City what they think by filling out a brief survey (enclosed). Survey questions range from queries about the best time to hold the concerts to the type of music that attendees would like to see and hear performed.

Surveys can be returned through the mail at no charge or dropped off at City Hall, 73510 Fred Waring Drive, or at the Palm Desert Visitor Center, 73470 El Paseo, Suite F-7. The survey can also be completed and submitted online by visiting the City's website at www.cityofpalmdesert.org.

For more information, please call 760-346-0611, ext. 416.

Neighborhoods Invited to Participate in City's Emergency Radio Program

The City of Palm Desert is inviting interested neighborhood groups and homeowner associations to participate in the City's Emergency Operation Center Radio Program.

This voluntary program will enable participating residents to communicate with City Hall during major disasters. Participants will provide critical information about their neighborhoods, allowing authorities to assign resources more efficiently and accurately during a major disaster. There is a minimal cost to purchase a radio and provide monthly maintenance.

For more information about the program and how to participate, please call 760-346-0611, ext. 326.

The series is presented by the City of Palm Desert Public Art Department and the University of California, Riverside Palm Desert Graduate Center. All films screen the third Thursday of the month, January through April, at 6 p.m. in the auditorium at UCR Palm Desert, 75080 Frank Sinatra Drive, in Palm Desert. Park Ceremony Recognizes International Holocaust Remembrance Day

In 2005, the United Nations General Assembly designated January 27 as International Holocaust Remembrance Day, an annual day set aside to remember the Holocaust's many victims, celebrate those who survived, and remind the world to never forget what happened.

The Gerald R. Ford Chapter of Mensch Foundation International will hold its third annual ceremony in honor of this special day on Sunday, January 27, beginning at 1 p.m. at Palm Desert Civic Center Park.

Scheduled speakers include economic analyst Morris Beschloss, who escaped Nazi Germany as a child; Rabbi Yonason Denebeim, Director of Chabad of Palm Springs; Laszlo Kalman, the Hungarian Consul General in Los Angeles; and Dr. Bernd Fischer, the German Consul General in Los Angeles.

Highlights will include a musical performance by a guest cantor and a remembrance walk from the park's amphitheater to the nearby Palm Desert Holocaust Memorial that will serve as a moving conclusion to the program.

Civic Center Park is located at Fred Waring Drive and San Pablo Avenue. Attendees are encouraged to bring chairs and blankets for the ceremony. For more information and to volunteer, please email geigersa@gmail.com or call 760-416-3685.

REMEMBER Rules of the Road for Golf Carts

Palm Desert adopted its pioneering Golf Cart Transportation Program two decades ago, giving residents the freedom to use their golf carts as a convenient and environmentally friendly way to get around town.

Today, many residents still take advantage of the program and use golf carts for travel on streets in Palm Desert with a speed limit of 25 miles per hour or less. Some golf cart drivers, however, are unaware of the guidelines for their use, and could be placing themselves and others at risk.

Golf cart drivers must have a valid driver's license and observe the same rules of the road as automobiles. Only golf carts with valid City permits are allowed to use the designated golf cart routes, lanes, and paths that crisscross the community.

To be permitted, golf carts must be electrically powered, conform to industry standards for manufactured golf carts, and provide an unobstructed view to the rear from the driver's seat. They must also be equipped with many of the same safety features as cars and other passenger vehicles, including seat belts for all occupants, turn signals, side and rearview mirrors, and head, tail, and brake lights.

To obtain a City permit, the golf cart must first be inspected by a Palm Desert code enforcement officer to confirm that the cart meets the requirements. A $10 permit can only be purchased after the cart passes inspection. Permits are valid for two years.

For more information and to get your cart inspected, please call 760-346-0611, ext. 477.
